A reuse project in Upper Austria

A Project of: Land OÖ, Umwelt Profis and all ReVital-partners.

ReVital - Products too good to waste

ReVital, established in 2009, is a reuse project in Upper Austria. ReVital combines waste avoidance and social aspects. The project aims for regionalism, social integration and municipal cooperation. ReVital supports ecological, economical and social aspects. ReVital is the brand name of a product line of used value added-goods.

The main idea of the project is the collection, revitalisation and sale of old items which are no longer used but too good to waste.

Reuseable goods are collected under defined quality criteria by socio-economic companies or selected recycling centers. Discarding products are processed at qualified social services before sale in Upper Austria, therefore ReVital generates sustainable employment.

Following product categories are collected:

- Electric devices
(e.g. washing machine, dishwasher)
 - Furniture
- Sports and leisure equipment
 - Household goods
 - Refrigerators
(only CFC-free)

ReVital-Box

Since 2015, the collection of reusable goods is easier than ever before because of the implementation of the ReVital-Box. The ReVital-Box, a reusable carton similar like a moving box, enables the collection of functional discarding products like electronic devices, toys, decorative items, books and clothes.

The ReVital-Box is available for free in certain recycling centers and ReVital-Shops.

ReVital products are sold in different ReVital-stores, which are distributed in Upper Austria. The products are certified quality goods, which fulfill defined quality standards.

Besides, ReVital products can be exchanged within four weeks, if the product does not fulfill the quality expectations.

ReVital quality standards:

complete & undamaged

fully functional refurbished and handsome

hygienically safe
